A Symphony of Words and Images

But it is in the harmonious marriage of images and words that "Picture With Poems" truly shines. Barbaron carefully selects verses from renowned and emerging poets, creating poignant and profound pairings that elevate the emotional impact of her artwork. The words dance across the pages, weaving a symphony of expression that resonates with the heart and mind.

In "Tranquility," the serene strokes of a peaceful lake are complemented by the words of Emily Dickinson: "Hope is the thing with feathers." The delicate imagery and poetic verse combine to evoke a sense of serenity and the unwavering spirit of hope.

On the other hand, "Chaos" bursts forth with bold colors and expressive brushwork, juxtaposed with Sylvia Plath's haunting words: "I have been loved into a corner." The contrast between the vibrant chaos on canvas and the oppressive emotions expressed in the verse creates a powerful and evocative experience.
